Please find attached the Parliamentary Precinct Daily Update #12 and the 12pm DEOC report.

Summary of the Daily Update #12:

As of 2:00pm, there are approximately 1000 demonstrators gathered on and around Parliament Hill.

No major disturbance to report within the Parliamentary Precinct, however protestors in the Downtown core seem to be more agitated and security partners are reporting an increase in alcohol consumption.

A window was broken at the Justice Building – corner of Kent and Wellington. Source or timing of incident is unknown at this point. Temporary repairs will be made.

Please reach out if you have any questions.

Good morning,

Please find attached the Parliamentary Precinct Daily Update #11 and the 9am DEOC report.

Summary of the Daily Update #11:

As of 10:00am, there are approximately 50 demonstrators gathered on and around Parliament Hill. No major disturbances reported overnight and nothing major to report this morning within the Parliamentary Precinct. Sparks Street is currently very quiet.

There is still a tent setup on the 90 Wellington Plaza and there was bond fire nearby yesterday evening as well. OPS is monitoring, but will not intervene at this point in time.

One tent was setup overnight at the National War Memorial and due to the sensitivity of the site, OPS is dealing with this situation.

Please reach out if you have any questions.

Good evening,

Please find attached the Parliamentary Precinct Daily Update #10 and the 5pm DEOC report.

Summary of the Daily Update #10:

As of 6:00pm, there are approximately 250 demonstrators gathered on and around Parliament Hill and small crowds are assembled in different areas of the Downtown core.

No major disruptions to report within the Parliamentary Precinct, but we have noticed that a few acts of vandalism took place since our mid-day inspection:

- * SJAM: a south east window was damaged, temporary repairs are being done
- * LoP (125 Sparks): a window was forced and will be readjusted and re-secured
- * 183 Sparks – Vacant retail bay: the door was forced, but resisted and is still secured.

PPS will be advised.

Please reach out if you have any questions.

Good morning,

Please find attached the Parliamentary Precinct Daily Update #8 and the 9am DEOC report.

Summary of the Daily Update #8:

As of 10:00am, there are approximately 150 demonstrators currently gathered on and around Parliament Hill and small crowds are starting to appear elsewhere in the Downtown core. No major disruptions to report within the Parliamentary Precinct at this point in time.

A few small graffiti's were done on the Victoria Building, near the Wellington Street entrance. They won't come off with regular cleaning supplies, so a specialized company will be called in.

Multiple exterior building lobbies across the Precinct were used as urinals. A cleaning company is being called to spray wash these entrances.

Updated report with updated numbers on the Hill. Note that we will no longer report numbers on Wellington street and sidewalk because we cannot establish an accurate number.

Summary of the Daily Update #3:

As of 11:00am, approximately 1500 demonstrators are gathered on Parliament Hill. There are no disruptions or meaningful activities to report from the Parliamentary Precinct at this point in time.

Security Partners have stated that everyone was satisfied about how things unfolded yesterday, with only minor vandalism incidents in the downtown core. They've also confirmed that they have sufficient resources to manage the situation over the weekend.

Wellington Street is now shut down from Elgin to Lyon, with two lanes available for emergency vehicles.
